

Towards a new international financial order ESSEC brings leading experts together in Beijing

Photo: Dominique Strauss Kahn delivering the introductory keynote speech

On the 16 November, 2009, in partnership with the French Embassy in Beijing, the Guanghua School of Management and the French Centre for Research on Contemporary China, ESSEC funded a conference in Beijing on the move towards a new, international financial order. Keynote speakers included Dominique Strauss Kahn, Director General of the IMF, Michel Camdessus, Director General of the IMF from 1987-2000 and Chinese Finance Minister, Zhu Guangyao. The main issues addressed were: Can the global macroeconomic imbalance be ended? Regional monetary zones: European experience perspectives for Asian monetary cooperation? Is a new international monetary system feasible?

Read the Presentation of China's Minister of Finance, Mr. Zhu Guangyao:
Approaching a New International Economic Order

Read the Keynote Speech of the Former Managing Director of the International Monetary Fund, Michel Camdessus: Towards a New International Monetary System

About ESSEC Business School

The ESSEC Group, Ecole Supérieure des Sciences Economiques et Commerciales, founded in 1907, is a major actor in management education on the world scene. With 4,200 students, a wide range of academic programs offered in management, partnerships with the most prestigious universities in the world, a network of 35,000 alumni, and a faculty composed of 135 permanent professors, renowned for quality and influential research, ESSEC has an established reputation for academic excellence and an innovative socially and economically aware, open-minded culture. For more information, visit: www.essec.edu